From the President

Dear Members,

Thank you all for your positive response to our recent survey. Over the coming months the Board of Governors and staff of the Club will be discussing the results and formulating/implementing plans based upon them. I'd like to take the opportunity now to give you a bit of a preview of what we're finding out.

Life After Williams: Lights, Camera, Action!

Television, Film and Journalism
 Life After Williams programs are designed to immerse students in various experiences during a weekend in New York City. Scheduled to participate are: Barnaby Feder '72 (Business Technology Reporter, The New York Times), Steve Wertimer '77 (Assistant Director/Director, Law and Order), Sam Flood '83 (Producer, NBC Sports), Tom Vitale '86 (SVP Acquisitions, Scheduling and Program Planning, Sci-Fi Channel), Bethany McLean '92 (Reporter and author, Fortune Magazine), Purva Bedi '96 (Actress), Shayla Joy Harris '97 (Assistant Producer, Dateline NBC), and Zelle Bonney '00 (Executive Assistant, VH-1 Talent and Music Programming).

Schedule

11:00 AM - 1:00 PM - Roundtable Discussion

1:00 PM - Lunch

Saturday, March 20th. Club members are welcome to attend the discussion and lunch. Cost is $20 per person.

New Hotel Rates

Member rates* start at $130/night. Our hotel includes five single rooms, eighteen double rooms, and two junior suites. All rooms include digital cable television, WiFi, individual thermostat control, private bathroom, continental breakfast and a copy of the New York Times each morning.

Member rates cover member's spouse, children, parents, parents-in-law, and siblings. Continental breakfast is served every day from 7:00 - 10:00 AM in the Whittlessey Room.

A cot may be added to your room for an additional $15/night.

Rates above do not include 8.625% NY State Tax. All room rates are subject to change without notice.

Supper and a Show: A. R. Gurney's Big Bill

The Williams Club has acquired 20 tickets to Pete Gurney's ('52) new play Big Bill, currently being performed at the Mitzi Newhouse Theatre of Lincoln Center.

A moving and incisive portrait of legendary tennis player William Tilden. Big Bill is a quick-paced work that captures Tilden's turbulent life in a series of scenes that shift back and forth in time. Performed on a set that resembles a tennis arena, the play illuminates the sportsman's distinguished career, extravagant style, personal travails, and, ultimately, his calamitous downfall.

Prior to the play, the Club will offer a light supper and discussion of the play with Mr. Gurney.

Tuesday, April 20th. Supper begins at 5:30 PM. Mr. Gurney will join us at 6:00 PM. We will depart for Lincoln Center at 7:00 PM. Curtain is at 8:00 PM. Cost is $70 per person.

Backstage with Bob

Thank you for all the compliments we've received on our new format. We're still working out a few kinks. I'd like to apologize if your March newsletter arrived in less-than-readable condition. In order to counter the destructive effects of snail-mailing, this issue is printed on a heavier paper stock and is wafer-sealed.

Over the coming months we have lots of interesting programs in store for you, from poetry to politics to a plethora of barbecues.

It's ironic that we are finally able to reschedule our panel on The Future of Science Fiction just a few weeks after the passing of Julius Schwartz, a man who had a significant impact on that world.

I met Julie when I worked at DC Comics. He was a raconteur, a really nice guy and a great source of history and wisdom. In the comics business Julie was referred to as a living legend. There aren't many of those anywhere. When I first started assembling the program as the Club's Fall Forum, I hoped I'd be able to convince Julie to make an appearance. Most of the members of the panel knew and were touched by Julie at some point in their careers. So, maybe he'll be there after all.

Thank you and good afternoon.

Yankees Get A-Rod; Club Gets Tickets

The Williams Club Yankees Ticket Lottery Returns

The Williams Club has acquired 24 tickets each to the following Saturday New York Yankees games:

- 4/10 vs. Chicago White Sox
- 4/24 vs. Boston Red Sox
- 5/1 vs. Kansas City Royals
- 5/15 vs. Seattle Mariners
- 6/5 vs. Texas Rangers
- 6/12 vs. San Diego Padres
- 6/26 vs. New York Mets
- 7/31 vs. Baltimore Orioles
- 8/7 vs. Toronto Blue Jays
- 8/21 vs. Anaheim Angels
- 9/4 vs. Baltimore Orioles

We expect there to be considerable demand for these tickets. In order to equitably distribute them among members we will institute the following lottery plan:

Please fill out the form to the right, listing your top six game dates and how many tickets you want for each. Members will be able to purchase up to 4 tickets at $45 each (with the exception of the Red Sox and Mets games, which are limited to a maximum of 2 tickets per membership). Forms can be emailed, faxed or snail mailed but must be received by Program Manager Bob Kahan by March 24th. Please, only one form per membership.

The lottery will be held Friday, March 26th at 3 PM. "Winners" will be awarded the top available tickets on their form at the time they are picked. Once a member has "won" tickets to a game, their name will be removed from the lottery. If any tickets remain after the lottery, a second lottery will be held. "Winners" will be informed following the lottery.

The view from our seats.

Family Event: Storytelling with Amherst's Onawumi Jean Moss

Onawumi Jean Moss is a talking book and rhythm master whose performances encourage pride of heritage, appreciation of cultural differences, and recognition of kinship. Her timeless stories and a cappella songs of Africa and African descendants throughout the diaspora include tales of wonder, liberation, praise, trickery, and spirituality. Come and let Onawumi's warm tones, gentle humor, and soulful rhythms draw you in.

Friday, March 19th. Reception at 6:30 PM (including cookies, milk, hot chocolate and more) Presentation at 7:00 PM Cost is $40 for families, $20 for individuals, $15 for children 13+ in advance, $40 and $20 at the door. Children 12 and under free. Please reserve. All members welcome.

Jim Shepard's Project X

During this past Winter Term Williams College Professor Jim Shepard and a group of Williams students were in residence at the Club studying film. This March Shepard returns in the guise of novelist to present his new novel, Project X. (reviewed in The Village Voice, Feb. 4-10, 2004)

Below the sign welcoming the new eighth-grade class to school is one that promises to LEAVE NO CHILD UNSUCCESSFUL and another that offers EIGHT WAYS OF BEING SMART. For Hanratty, who is as hilarious at times as he is miserable, this is part of what makes junior high pretty much a relentless nightmare. And so, with Flake, his aptly named only friend, he contends with clique upon clique—the jocks who beat them up, the girls who ignore or taunt them—as well as the creepy old man who stalks them, and the adoration of a sixth-grader who's even more ferociously disaffected than they are. And while Hanratty's parents try desperately to understand him, they're powerless against a demoralization so systemic that he and Flake have no recourse other than their own smart remarks, until they gradually begin flirting with the most horrible revenge of all.

This deadly impulse, which has touched communities across America, has never been given such shocking credibility as in Project X, which suggests that these boys' central predicament is not their hatred of the world but their ineffable, enduring love of it. Never before has Jim Shepard's compassionate virtuosity been on such conspicuous, unsettling, and haunting display.

Monday, March 22nd. Reception at 6:30. Presentation at 7:00 PM. Cost: $10 in advance, $15 at the door. All Williams alumni welcome.

Sir Emyr Jones Parry: Why We Need the United Nations

The Williams Club, in association with the Oxford Alumni Association of New York is proud to welcome Sir Emyr Jones Parry, the United Kingdom's

Permanent Representative to the United Nations to the Club to deliver an address entitled Why We Need the United Nations. Sir Emyr has been United Kingdom Permanent Representative to the United Nations since July 2003, after serving for two years as United Kingdom Permanent Representative to the North Atlantic Council in Brussels. He was Political Director of the Foreign and Commonwealth Office from 1998-2001 and European Union Director from 1997-1998.

A multilateralist, Sir Emyr believes that the UN is the indispensable global organization helping to tackle the problems of a globalizing world, issues which recognize no borders and which nation states cannot tackle alone - The UK Mission is working to ensure that the UN and its Agencies remain in the forefront of efforts to improve human security.

Thursday, March 24th. Reception at 6:30 PM. Presentation at 7:00 PM. Cost: $10 in advance, $15 at the door. All are welcome. Please reserve.

The Continuing Fascination with Sylvia Plath and Ted Hughes

Professors Lynda Bundtzen of Williams College and Susan Van Dyne of Smith College will present a "Symposium on Sylvia Plath and Ted Hughes" on the evening of Thursday, March 25. They promise to discuss a variety of critical, scholarly, and biographical issues surrounding Plath's art and marriage to Ted Hughes. It would be helpful if the audience reads portions of their books, The Other ARIEL (Bundtzen), especially Chapter 3 on the bee poems, and parts of Revising Life (Van Dyne), especially the introduction and the chapter on "Rage." They also welcome discussion of the recent film Sylvia and its representation of the Plath-Hughes marriage. It would be ambitious, but useful, if the audience has dipped into the Unabridged Journals (Bundtzen recommends the Boston years and the notes on her therapy with Ruth Beuscher), Hughes's Birthday Letters, and the recent biography by Diane Middlebrook, Her Husband. In addition, Christine Jeff's 2003 film Sylvia, featuring Gwyneth Paltrow and Daniel Craig is recommended viewing.

Thursday, March 25th. Reception at 6:30 PM. Presentation at 7:00 PM. Cost is $10 in advance and $15 at the door. A screening of the film Sylvia will begin at 4:30 PM. All alumni welcome.

The Future of Science Fiction

Science Fiction in all its media incarnations has been seen as a predictor of the future since the early days of the genre. From travelling to the moon to the Star Trek-style communicators we call cell phones, many of these predictions have come to pass. Many would say we now live in the future. Where does the field of science fiction take us now?

The Future of Science Fiction will discuss science fiction in its many forms, the written, the drawn, films, television and more.

We'll discuss past, present and future trends in science fiction. We'll also discuss how one can break into the field and what life in the world of science fiction can be like.

A diverse panel has been assembled.

CAITLIN BLASDELL '89 has been a literary agent with Liza Dawson Associates since January 2002. She specializes in commercial fiction, including science fiction and fantasy. Previously she was a senior editor at HarperCollins Publishers where she acquired and published authors including Kyle Mills, Anne McCaffrey, William Shatner, Kevin J. Anderson, and Margaret Weis and Tracy Hickman.

CHRIS CLAREMONT is an author best known for an impressive 18-year run on Marvel Comics' flagship title, Uncanny X-Men, a book he is about to return to. He has also written several novels, including the Shadow War series with George Lucas, novelizations and currently writes Excalibur, Astonishing X-Men and JLA (Justice League of America).

ROBERT GREENBERGER is currently a Senior Editor at DC Comics, Robert has a 23 year career as journalist, editor, and author. His writing credits include a plethora of Star Trek fiction, a smattering of original short fiction, tons of articles, and six young adult non-fiction books.

STUART MOORE has been a writer, book editor, and an award-winning comics editor. At St. Martin's Press, he edited a wide variety of sciencefiction and pop culture books, including The Year's Best Science Fiction series. At DC Comics, Stuart initiated such comics series as Preacher, The Invisibles, and Transmetropolitan, and edited Swamp Thing, Hellblazer, The Books of Magic, and many others. Currently Stuart freelances as a writer of comic books and essays, including the bi-weekly column A Thousand Flowers: Comics, Pop Culture and the World Outside for Newsarama.com.

TOM VITALE '86 is Senior Vice President for Acquisitions and Scheduling for The SciFi Channel.

Dining & Catering

Please join us in welcoming Brian Young, our new Executive Chef, to The Williams Club. You may recognize the name. Brian has been our Sous Chef since 2002 and has been responsible for some of the fantastic displays you may have seen at various functions around the Club (especially at our Holiday and Spring Member Parties).

Brian's skills extend far beyond displays though. He is an accomplished executive chef with a wide range of experience. Following the completion of his studies in Hong Kong and Geneva, Switzerland, Brian plied his trade for over 30 years worldwide in Hamburg, Geneva, Amsterdam, San Diego, Washington, D.C., and all over the metropolitan area. Brian was featured on The Morning Show with Regis Philbin from 1986-89.

He's served as executive chef for the restaurants and organizations such as the Ford Foundation, Promenade Café, Lincoln Center, Kennedy Center, Glen Island Casino, Chelsea on the Hudson, Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York Botanical Garden, Riverview Café, Mamaroneck Beach and Yacht Club and the Pacific Ocean Restaurant in San Diego.

Brian has created exciting additions to our menu, many featuring an Asian infusion, as well as the dependable staples you have come to enjoy over the years. We consider ourselves privileged and honored to have someone of Brian's expertise and background steering our culinary ship.

St. Patrick's Day Lunch Buffet

Celebrate St. Patrick's Day and all things Irish at the Club. After you check out the parade, drop by the Club.

Chocolate Dinner at The Cornell Club

Put «eat chocolate» at the top of your list of things to do today. That way, at least you'll get one thing done.
—The Rules of Chocolate, author unknown.

Love chocolate? The Cornell Club is hosting a decadent dinner made even more sinful (but who really thinks chocolate is a sin!) with the infusion of chocolate in each course. Mix and mingle with fellow chocoholics at our pre-dinner reception followed by a delectable three course dinner.

Wednesday, March 31st., 6:00-7:00 PM Reception, 7:00 PM Dinner. $45 plus tax and gratuity. Reservations required by Friday, March 26th, at which time they are strictly final sale. At The Cornell

All-Ivy Spring Mixer at The Yale Club

Join us at our annual spring mixer as we welcome the warmer weather! Reunite and meet fellow members of all ages from the All-Ivy clubs in our Grand Ballroom. Enjoy delicious hors d'oeuvre all evening and complimentary beer, wine and soda. A cash bar will be available for cocktails.

Thursday, April 1st, 6:30 PM. The cost of this event is $30 per person if reserved by March 30th, and $40 cash only at the door. At The Yale Club.

Breakfast with Madeleine Albright at The Penn Club

Meet the First Foreign-born U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations.

Meet the first female Secretary of State.

Meet Madeleine Albright.

Through her wit, courage and forcefulness, Madeleine Albright has become one of the most respected and effective diplomats of her time. In this exclusive breakfast, she will be speaking on her new book, Madame Secretary: A Memoir. Secretary Albright will discuss her position as the highest-ranking woman in American history and the current state of world affairs today. After her remarks, there will be a Q&A session followed by a book signing.

Wednesday, April 21st, 8:00 AM. The cost is $50 per person (plus tax and gratuity) and includes breakfast and a hardcover copy of the book Madame Secretary: A Memoir. All reservations must be received by noon on Monday, April 19th, at which time all reservations are considered final. Please note there is limited availability for this event. At The Penn Club.

Dinner with Marcus Samuelsson at The Penn Club

Enjoy an elegant evening in our Main Dining Room with Scandinavian Chef Marcus Samuelsson, of Aquavit, Riingo and AQ Café fame. This exquisite French-trained Manhattan chef, born in Ethiopia and raised in Sweden will add his unique flare to a three-course meal prepared exclusively for the Penn Club. As a special bonus, you will receive a copy of Chef Samuelsson's new book Aquavit: And the New Scandinavian Cuisine which the Chef will be available to sign after dinner. Space is limited so make your reservations early.

Wednesday, May 5th, 6:30 PM. The cost is $95 per person (plus tax and gratuity) and includes dinner and a signed copy of the book. All reservations must be received by noon on May 3rd, at which time all reservations are considered final.

Cancellation Policy

In order to ensure equitable service for all Club members, The Williams Club adheres to the following policy regarding cancellations. Reservations may be cancelled free of charge until 5:00 PM two working days prior to an event. Members cancelling after this time, as well as no-shows, will be charged the full cost of the event. Out-of-house ticketed events are non-cancellable. Advance cancellations for free events are appreciated. Other events may have additional restrictions. Please refer to the individual event listings.
